ASSASSINATION OF JAP PREMIER MAKES OFFICERS CAUTIOUS

TAKING GREATER CARE TO GUARD
JAP DELEGATES AND PRESIDENT AND MRS. HARDING

NEW PREMIER IS APPOINTED—
THE OLD CABINET
RESIGNS

(By United Press)

Washington, Nov. 5.—Proclamation of the death of Premier Hara of Japan, who was killed by a demented youth in a railway station at Tokio, will have no effect on the Japanese authorities in the arms limitation conference, said Prince Pokucawa, one of the principal Japanese delegates.

Precaution for the safeguarding of the lives of those who will be here during the arms conference will be made today, following the assassination of Premier Hara.

Officials of the secret service force are preparing to give every precaution to protect the Japs in the American conference.

Congress has appropriated $10,000 for this, and an extra donation of $5,000 to increase the police force temporarily, has been asked.

The secret service men are more on the alert than ever to protect President and Mrs. Harding and no visitors enter the executive offices without being closely scrutinized by the secret service men.

Killed Premier Because of What He Had

Tokio, Nov. 5.—That he did it for the welfare of Japan, was the declaration of Nakaoka, a Japanese boy, arraigned as the assassin of Premier Hara of Japan.

"I killed Hara because of the criticisms of him which I read in the newspapers," he told the United Press correspondent in the jail here. Nakaoka maintained a bold demeanor and showed no sign of repentance for what he had done. He declared that he had no regret, and regarded himself as a martyr and benefactor of Japan.

Nakaoka is a type of coarse student often seen in Japan. He is of a good family, but was forced to leave school to earn a living. Although he is exceedingly proud of his deed, the public was inclined not to blame him as much as it did the bitter criticisms of the newspapers which had influenced him.

Extreme sorrow is shown because of the death of Premier Hara, and everywhere there are expressions of regret and sympathy.

Hara's Successor Appointed

Tokio, Nov. 5.—The appointment of Baron Uchida as premier to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hara, was announced late Friday. He will serve until a permanent successor to Hara is obtained.

Cabinet Resigns

Washington, Nov. 5.—All members of the Japanese cabinet have offered their resignations because of the death of Premier Hara, the Japanese embassy was today informed in an official cable from Tokio. At the embassy, it was explained, that resignations follow the death of the premiership. They are free to select a cabinet entirely agreeable to the new premier.

Saionji, head of the Japanese delegation at the peace conference, and one of the prominent statesmen of Japan, may be appointed premier to succeed Premier Hara, it was believed by the embassy.

The state department and embassy confirmed the temporary appointment of Uchida to the premiership. This was carried by the United Press exclusively from Tokio early today.

JUNGLE CAT FACES FIGHT FOR ITS LIFE

By HENRY L. FARRELL,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 5.—All the traditional fighting qualities of the striped jungle cat were spurred up today by the Princeton Tigers as they crouched for a spring upon the swarthy backs of Harvard.

There was nothing but that will do fight that consoled the Nassau campus as Capt. Stanley Keck rallied his torn and mangled jungle pack around him for the first of the "Big Three" games. Seniors and Juniors who have a memory stretching back two years remembered 1919 and hoped. Two years ago the Tigers, their hides tattered and torn by two defeats from Colgate and West Virginia, rallied at the critical moment, held Harvard to a tie and beat Yale.

After an experience almost identical resulting from defeats by the Naval Academy and Chicago, the prayer of the Nassau cohorts was—"Bring us back the Spirit of 1919."

There were several rays of hazy light piercing the gloom as the two teams prepared for their first game of the season that means everything to them.

Don Lourie and Hank Garrity, the main artillery of the Orange and Black troops, who have been out most of the season, were ready to start and the line, which was smashed to pieces by the Midshipmen and the Stag eleven had been bolstered to a more promising strength.

Harvard, undefeated in two and a half years, was not hesitant in predicting that Princeton would not get away as luckily as in the past two years when the Tigers held the Crimson to a tie.

Tickets for practically every seat in the big Palmer Memorial Stadium were sold early in the week giving promise of a crowd of 60,000.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Nov. 5.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon was arraigned in the senate today by Senator LaFollette, of Wisconsin, as "the brazen fiscal head of the government," and declaring that the wealthy could not be made to pay a certain share of the taxes, and that the people must take the whole burden.

LaFollette demanded a vote on his amendment for publicity on all income tax rates. By the narrow margin of two votes, the LaFollette amendment for publicity on income tax rates was lost. Nine republicans joined LaFollette in support of the amendment. Republican senators voting for the amendment were: Borah, Lapper, Cummins, Johnson, Jones of Washington, Kenyon, Ladd, LaFollette, and Norbeck.

WINTER ROAD WORK TO BEGIN AT ONCE; U. S. CASH GRANTED

BABCOCK PREPARES TO LET CON-
TRACTS—$2,150,000 AVAILABLE
FOR STATE

Minneapolis, Nov. 5.—Minnesota's winter road program held back for several months by the inaction of congress, will be put in operation at once, Highway Commissioner C. M. Babcock said today, following final passage by congress of the $75,000,000 federal aid appropriation late yesterday. Anticipating signature of the bill by President Harding, the department was preparing advertisements for bids on some 35 big grading jobs, and plans to spend some $4,500,000 this winter.

Several thousand men and many teams will be given winter work by this move, as urged by Mr. Babcock in the unemployment conference at Washington. His office and the offices of district road superintendents are besieged daily by men seeking work, Mr. Babcock said.

"We do not have the hiring of men on these road contracts," he said. "The men are all hired by the contractors."

Grading Will Be Pushed

Minnesota gets $2,150,000 of federal aid under the bill just passed, and Attorney General C. L. Hilton has advised the highway department that it can anticipate automobile license collections for next year in letting contracts. The state, therefore, will match the federal aid dollar for dollar and probably more.

Hundreds of miles of trunk highways will be graded this winter and many tons of gravel will be hauled. Contracts can be let by the last week in November so work can begin before the ground has frozen much.

While cement paving cannot be done in cold weather, contractors say they can do a great deal of preparatory work in the winter, and some paving contracts may be let from funds just made available. Most of the work, however, will be grading in heavy cuts and hauling of sand, rock and gravel, serving the double purpose of giving employment for a big road construction achievement next season.

Appropriation Trimmed

The federal aid is not as large as the highway authorities had hoped for, and it is expected that congress by another year will return to the former basis of $100,000,000 a year, allowing Minnesota $2,840,000 a year, its share on a mileage basis. A bill making this appropriation annually for the next five years is before congress and probably will be disposed of this winter. In that event the first $100,000,000 will be available July 1, next, and Minnesota by matching its share, will have another $5,680,000 to use on road work next season. Contracts would be let next spring and there would be no break in construction activities.

Grading on the Jefferson highway now in progress from Westcott to Northfield, and from St. Cloud north to Little Falls. Paving of these stretches will be completed next season, giving a continuous paved roadway from Faribault through the twin cities to Little Falls.

"PUSSYFOOT" THE GUY OF 1921

(By United Press)

London, Nov. 5.—"Guy Fawkes Day," the anniversary of the discovery of the famous plot to blow up King James' Parliament, is being celebrated with old time gusto by British juveniles today, rejoicing in the removal of war-time restrictions by exploding fireworks to their hearts' content.

The "guys" which will be burned in public and private tonight, however, bear little resemblance to the conspirator of history, and even the ex-Kaiser has lost favor as a "guy." This year's effigies chiefly portrayed "Pussyfoot" (the arch-enemy of father's beer) and "Bolsheviki."

The disposal of huge stores of government munitions in the form of Very lights, rockets, etc., enabled ex-leutenants Jones, Smith and Brown, to give their offspring a fair illustration of night-light effects on the Ypres front, etc., at a very small cost. Very lights largely replaced the old-time fireworks today.

This committee of twenty-one, it was said the White House today, will be used as a "reaction agency," the president believing that the committee represents that portion of the American population upon which public opinion can be gauged.

SOCIALIZATION OF INDUSTRIES IS FAR DISTANT

(By United Press.)

New York, Nov. 5.—Socialization or communism of German industry is not "in the cards" at the present time.

The agitation of more than a year ago for socialization of coal mines has been dropped, temporarily at least, into the discard, and no one is making any serious attempt at the moment to revive it. The majority socialists, Germany's largest socialist party, still believes in socializing public works, but believes in accomplishing this through evolution instead of revolution. At its recent convention, the party made clear that it does not propose to undertake any drastic measures for attaining its ends.

The socialists, however, are making a serious effort to have the government reach deeper than heretofore into the pockets of capital when it takes its next tax levy. Capital, naturally, wants to escape further burden; but the prospects are that, with the mark continually depreciating, this escape will not long be deferred.

As for communism, it has long since ceased to be a menace in Germany. There is still a communist party, but it is a house divided against itself, and will never come into power, unless the whole economic structure of present-day Germany collapses. Then it is conceivable that a new chance would come to the "Reds." On the other hand, the swing might be in an entirely opposite direction and result in a more iron-bound domination of capitalism—perhaps foreign—than is now the case.

The workman in Germany is today fairly content. Of course, his wages are losing in purchasing power as the mark drops. But he has been quite successful for a long time in "jimmying" raises out of the government and out of private capital. Today a pair of shoes costs him more than a week's pay; a suit of clothes about two months' work. Food prices having been slowly advancing, and are destined to go higher as the mark drops and as new taxes are imposed even on necessities. The workman's position has improved vastly, however, since the armistice. Just after that, he was full of "reddism" and "strikeism." Today, he is willing to work, and is working, as shown by figures showing that only about 380,000 men are unemployed.

Mills are booming with home and foreign orders, due to the low stand of the mark, but indications are that this prosperity will blow up with a loud report one of these days—and not so far distant.

C., M. & St. P. Orders $5,000,000 Equipment

(By United Press)

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Faith in the future was shown by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway when it placed orders for new freight equipment to cost between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000. This includes 2,500 steel gondola cars of 50 tons capacity to be used for carrying coal. This order was split between the Haskell & Barker company, which will construct 1,500 cars, and the Bettendorf Car company, which will build 1,000. Delivery of the new equipment is to begin within 60 days. Fifty thousand tons of steel will be used in constructing the cars.

CHECK-OFF PLAN ON DUES TO HOLD FOR BRIEF TIME

U. S. COURT OF APPEALS RULING
LOOKED UPON TO DO MUCH TO
WARD CLEARING SITUATION

Chicago, Nov. 4.—The check-off system of holding out union dues and assessments from coal miners' pay, against which an injunction was handed down by Judge A. B. Anderson of Indianapolis, will continue until further orders of the United States court of appeals, the court held today in suspending that part of the injunction applying to the check-off. An appeal hearing was granted the union for Wednesday Nov. 16.

The appellate court issued an order directing the clerk of the district court at Indianapolis to transmit copies of all evidence and affidavits in the original action there to the court of appeals here immediately.

Suspension of Injunction
Council for the mine workers asked either an immediate hearing or suspension of the injunction which prohibits collection of union dues by the mine companies for the unions under the check-off system.

W. A. Glasgow of Philadelphia, counsel for the unions, presented the history of the case briefly, pointing out the possibilities of enforcement of the injunction which, he said, was a virtual demand that a legal contract be broken. He pointed out that the check-off was a matter of contract between the miners' locals and the operators, with the consent of the individual miners.

He declared it was beyond the power of the international union to prevent disturbances by locals and said it was his belief that an immediate hearing was the only means of averting "interruption of the regular supply of coal."

In his decision, Judge Baker said he court thought the November 16 date would meet the exigencies of the situation and Mr. Glasgow agreed with him.

Miners Claim Victory

Action of the court of appeals here today in suspending that part of the injunction applying to the check-off system until further order of the court, was acclaimed by officials of the United Mine Workers of America as a decided victory.

Madalynne in Swoon When Called Before Grand Jury

Los Angeles, Nov. 5.—Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain yesterday got the opportunity she had sought, to appear before a grand jury and be heard but was unable to utilize it because of a physical collapse. The same collapse caused postponement of the case wherein she was charged with murder in connection with the death of J. Belton Kennedy, when it came up in court Friday.

Thursday night Mrs. Obenchain wrote to the foreman of the grand jury asking an opportunity to be heard, in case it took any further action regarding her. As a result of the request, a summons was sent to the jail for her.

Mrs. Obenchain collapsed soon after her summons arrived and was weeping when she was taken into the jury room. She proved unable to answer any questions there and soon was excused.

Physicians who examined her told he court she would be unable to stand the strain of appearing and the notion of her attorneys for dismissal of the charge against her which was to have been argued was continued until next Monday.

Her attorneys expressed hope she might be able to make a statement to the grand jury before that time.

Permission Asked to Withdraw Dismissal Application

Ralph Obenchain today asked Judge Reeve for permission to withdraw the motion to dismiss the charge of murder against his beautiful divorced wife, Madalynne.

Obenchain said decision to ask withdrawal had been reached at a conference between himself and Attorney Charles Erbstein.

The district attorney objected to the granting of the application for withdrawal. Judge Reeve held up the decision on Obenchain's request until 10 a. m. Monday.

SOCIALIZATION OF INDUSTRIES IS FAR DISTANT

(By United Press.)

New York, Nov. 5.—Socialization or communication of German industry is not "in the cards" at the present time.

The agitation of more than a year ago for socialization of coal mines has been dropped, temporarily at least, into the discard, and no one is making any serious attempt at the moment to revive it. The majority socialists, Germany's largest socialist party, still believes in socializing public works, but believes in accomplishing this through evolution instead of revolution. At its recent convention, the party made clear that it does not propose to undertake any drastic measures for attaining its ends.

The socialists, however, are making a serious effort to have the government reach deeper than heretofore into the pockets of capital when it takes its next tax levy. Capital, naturally, wants to escape further burden; but the prospects are that, with the mark continually depreciating, this escape will not long be deferred.

As for communism, it has long since ceased to be a menace in Germany. There is still a communist party, but it is a house divided against itself, and will never come into power, unless the whole economic structure of present-day Germany collapses. Then it is conceivable that a new chance would come to the "Reds." On the other hand, the swing might be in an entirely opposite direction and result in a more iron-bound domination of capitalism—perhaps foreign—than is now the case.

The workman in Germany is today fairly content. Of course, his wages are losing in purchasing power as the mark drops. But he has been quite successful for a long time in "jimmying" raises out of the government and out of private capital. Today a pair of shoes costs him more than a week's pay; a suit of clothes about two months' work. Food prices have been slowly advancing, and are destined to go higher as the mark drops and as new taxes are imposed even on necessities. The workman's position has improved vastly, however, since the armistice. Just after that, he was full of "redism" and "strikeism." Today, he is willing to work, and is working, as shown by figures showing that only about 380,000 men are unemployed.

Mills are booming with home and foreign orders, due to the low stand of the mark, but indications are that this prosperity will blow up with a loud report one of these days—and not so far distant.

C., M. & St. P. Orders $5,000,000 Equipment

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Faith in the future was shown by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway when it placed orders for new freight equipment to cost between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000. This includes 2,500 steel gondola cars of 50 tons capacity to be used for carrying coal. This order was split between the Haskell & Barker company, which will construct 1,500 cars, and the Bettendorf Car company, which will build 1,000. Delivery of the new equipment is to begin within 60 days. Fifty thousand tons of steel will be used in constructing the cars.

CHECK-OFF PLAN ON DUES TO HOLD FOR BRIEF TIME

U. S. COURT OF APPEALS RULING
LOOKED UPON TO DO MUCH TO-
WARD CLEARING SITUATION

Chicago, Nov. 4.—The check-off system of holding out union dues and assessments from coal miners' pay, against which an injunction was handed down by Judge A. B. Anderson of Indianapolis, will continue until further orders of the United States court of appeals, the court held today in suspending that part of the injunction applying to the check-off. An appeal hearing was granted the union for Wednesday Nov. 16.

The appellate court issued an order directing the clerk of the district court at Indianapolis to transmit copies of all evidence and affidavits in the original action there to the court of appeals here immediately.

Suspension of Injunction

Council for the mine workers asked either an immediate hearing or suspension of the injunction which prohibits collection of union dues by the mine companies for the unions under the check-off system.

W. A. Glasgow of Philadelphia, counsel for the unions, presented the history of the case briefly, pointing out the possibilities of enforcement of the injunction which, he said, was a virtual demand that a legal contract be broken. He pointed out that the check-off was a matter of contract between the miners' locals and the operators, with the consent of the individual miners.

He declared it was beyond the power of the international union to prevent disturbances by locals and said it was his belief that an immediate hearing was the only means of averting "interruption of the regular supply of coal."

In his decision, Judge Baker said the court thought the November 16 date would meet the exigencies of the situation and Mr. Glasgow agreed with him.

Miners Claim Victory

Action of the court of appeals here today in suspending that part of the injunction applying to the check-off system until further order of the court, was acclaimed by officials of the United Mine Workers of America as a decided victory.

Madalynne in Swoon When Called Before Grand Jury

Los Angeles, Nov. 5.—Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain yesterday got the opportunity she had sought, to appear before a grand jury and be heard but was unable to utilize it because of a physical collapse. The same collapse caused postponement of the case wherein she was charged with murder in connection with the death of J. Belton Kennedy, when it came up in court Friday.

Thursday night Mrs. Obenchain wrote to the foreman of the grand jury asking an opportunity to be heard, in case it took any further action regarding her. As a result of the request, a summons was sent to the jail or her.

Mrs. Obenchain collapsed soon after he summons arrived and was weeping when she was taken into the jury room. She proved unable to answer any questions there and soon was exhausted.

Physicians who examined her told her court she would be unable to stand the strain of appearing and the notion of her attorneys for dismissal of the charge against her which was to have been argued was continued until next Monday.

Her attorneys expressed hope she might be able to make a statement to the grand jury before that time.

Permission Asked to Withdraw Dismissal Application

Ralph Obenchain today asked Judge Reeve for permission to withdraw the motion to dismiss the charge of murder against his beautiful divorced wife, Madalynne.

Obenchain said decision to ask withdrawal had been reached at a conference between himself and Attorney Charles Erbstein.

The district attorney objected to the granting of the application for withdrawal. Judge Reeve held up the decision on Obenchain's request until 10 a. m. Monday.

DIPLOMATIC RESIDENCES OF THE UNITED STATES

An American-owned embassy building in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, may materialize within the next two years. Edward E. Denison, republican representative in Congress from the 25th Illinois District was struck with a happy thought in connection with the $1,000,000 recently appropriated by Congress to enable the United States to participate in the centennial exposition to be held by the Republic of Brazil in the fall of 1922. It will require about $500,000 of the appropriation to house American exhibits and the force which will represent this country. Mr. Denison suggests that when the exposition is over this building be given to our embassy in Rio. In making this suggestion Mr. Denison inquired if there was a Government owned embassy at that place and Representative Latham said he was not advised as to that.

We have no government-owned embassy in Brazil. Prior to the war the only diplomatic residences owned by this government were one presented to us by the King of Siam, in 1884, a tumble-down structure, one at Tokyo, Japan, which is a very poor affair, a very creditable building in Constantinople, Turkey, and a passable one in Peking, China. In February of this year Congress authorized the acceptance by the United States of the J. P. Morgan residence in London, to be used as an embassy, and Representative Longworth succeeded in having Congress appropriate $150,000 to purchase an embassy in Paris, and the suggestion was then made that we acquire diplomatic residences in other countries by set-offs in the debts owed by them to the United States. Probably not more than six or eight consular residences are owned by this government abroad.

This is in marked and unfavorable contrast to other great governments in this respect. For nearly a century Great Britain has pursued the policy of housing her diplomats, not only in the capitals of Europe but in all others of the civilized world, in the largest, handsomest and best buildings obtainable. This policy has been imitated by France, Austria, Germany, Russia and Italy, and is now being imitated by Spain, Belgium, China, Japan, and even Norway, Holland and Mexico. Some of the smaller and newer countries of the world have also been negotiating for the purchase of lands with buildings, or upon which to erect buildings, in most of the larger world capitals.

The advantages of owning our diplomatic residences are many. They provide office room and archives for our vastly increasing correspondence with foreign nations. They have much to do with enhancing the nation's prestige. They save us from embarrassments in troublesome times—for instance, when our minister to Denmark, sharing a building with the German minister, was for some time obliged to see the German flag floating over the building. But, most important of all, they release an American diplomat from the burden of exceedingly high rents which, since he must pay from his own pocket, necessitates his being a man of large means. The man of great ability and small means is unable to accept the office on that account.

Some time ago the Republican Publicity Association canvassed the situation and stated its belief that $15,000,000 would provide all the diplomatic and consular buildings now needed by this government. When this country has recovered somewhat from the terrific burdens of war, no doubt this question of housing our diplomats and consuls abroad will be determined. Mr. Denison's suggestion should be acted upon favorably and it is a very practical way of taking care of the Brazilian embassy.

10 POULTRY CENTERS DESIGNATED IN STATE

Poultry specialists of the agricultural extension division of the state university, working with the farm bureau, have designated 10 county demonstration communities at widely separated points over the state, the object of each being to demonstrate the profit to be derived from poultry as a part of the farm business. The membership of each community must not be less than 10, or more than 30, and all members must pledge themselves to keep accurate records of production and cost. The communities have been designated as follows: Long Lake in Hennepin county, Kingston in Meeker county, Milaca in Mille Lacs county, Askov in Pine county, Walker in Cass county, Orchard Gardens in Dakota county, Crookston in St. Louis county, Elmdale in Morrison county, Freedom in Waseca county and Fairmont in Martin county.

Prof. Starr of the University of Chicago says that there are "no beautiful women in the United States," that the most of them in fact are "phenomenally ugly," and that "only among Librarian and kindred races is real beauty to be found." Though his peculiar taste points toward the conclusion that the professor is a gentleman of color himself, it is noticeable that he stops short of recommending also the fashion in clothes—or no clothes—of African jungle belles.

Only one deer, of either sex, or one antlered moose may be killed. Big game licenses will be issued at any time after this date by the office of the auditor.
When the 1921 licenses were received at the office of County Auditor C. W. Mahlum last week, it was found that all were accompanied with metal tags, which are to be furnished with each license, and which must be placed on the deer or moose after it is killed. These tags, which cost 25 cents each, are numbered to correspond with the license. Fees for license to hunt big game are $2 each, and the cost of the tag, 25 cents, must accompany the payment of the $2 fee for the license.
Over 50 big game licenses have been issued to date by the county auditor.

Ton of Honey Sent By Mail

The Altin postoffice had the novel experience of shipping out one ton of honey, mostly in five and ten pound pails last Friday.
Herman Voller of the Little Pine route, was the producer and about all of the shipment went to Duluth homes. Mr. Voller will market about three tons of honey this season, which is produced at his home place.

10 POULTRY CENTERS DESIGNATED IN STATE

Poultry specialists of the agricultural extension division of the state university, working with the farm bureau, have designated 10 county demonstration communities at widely separated points over the state, the object of each being to demonstrate the profit to be derived from poultry as a part of the farm business. The membership of each community must not be less than 10, or more than 30, and all members must pledge themselves to keep accurate records of production and cost. The communities have been designated as follows: Long Lake in Hennepin county, Kingston in Meeker county, Milaca in Mille Lacs county, Askov in Pine county, Walker in Cass county, Orchard Gardens in Dakota county, Crookston in St. Louis county, Elmdale in Morrison county, Freedom in Waseca county and Fairmont in Martin county.
Prof. Starr of the University of Chicago says that there are "no beautiful women in the United States," that the most of them in fact are "phenomenally ugly," and that "only among Librarian and kindred races is real beauty to be found." Though his peculiar taste points toward the conclusion that the professor is a gentleman of color himself, it is noticeable that he stops short of recommending also the fashion in clothes—or no clothes—of African jungle belles.
A Detroit bellboy was recently shot by a tourist from Texas. Perhaps the youth sneered at a 10-cent tip.

MEETING WITH SUCCESS

Sale of Tickets by Business & Professional Women's Clubs For "Heart Of Maryland"

The Business & Professional Women's club is meeting with great success in the sale of tickets for the picture to be given next Monday and Tuesday at the Lyceum theatre. Those who wish to assist the club in furnishing the club rooms should purchase tickets from the members, as the club does not receive anything from the tickets sold at the box office, but will get half of all tickets sold on the outside.

Members of the club will usher, and others will be at the theatre looking after the comfort of their patrons. The women of the club feel they have secured a picture that will satisfy everyone. Each phase of the picture has its appeal. The historical value, the love interest, the cast of favorite players, the intense dramatic incidents and the scenic beauty. The play is familiar to most of the older generation. It toured the country and for years it has been the favorite vehicle for stock production. Those who have seen the play will most assuredly, decide to view the screen version.

Some very beautiful old china and silverware is used in the picture that will surely appeal to the women of the audience. For one scene Tom Terriss, the director, secured a collection of rare old Sheffield silver plate and Napoleonic china, both of which were well over a hundred years old. One is reminded of a very interesting collection of china and Civil War relics that is owned right here in Crow Wing county. Mrs. M. A. Bronson, of Merrifield, has a beautiful collection of lustre ware, and old Doulton, also a number of pieces of old pewter. She has platters of every size and design, and a number of interesting pitchers, goblets, cups and plates. There are also old swords that have been valiant service in defense of the Union. Mrs. Bronson has a newspaper with the account of Lincoln's death, and any number of other mementoes. Those who have seen Mrs. Bronson's collection will appreciate to what unusual lengths Mr. Terriss went to secure the "atmosphere" of this remarkable picture, "The Heart of Maryland."

The hostesses at the club rooms of the Business & Professional Women Sunday will be Miss Corna Stickney, Miss Stella Erickson and Miss Helen Schellburg. Coffee will be served instead of the customary tea and chocolate, with little home-made cakes.

The members may bring guests if they wish, as the club is glad to have those friendly to it view the club rooms. Though not elaborate, they are comfortable and attractive, and serve a very real purpose in bringing the members into close relationship with each other.

DO STRIKES PAY?

As a result of strikes and lockouts during the first half of 1921, as indicated in data of the Department of Labor, the workmen of this country forfeited $1,179,000,000 in wages. At this rate the cost of strikes to employers for the entire year is placed roughly at 15.3 per cent of the nation's total industrial payroll, and represents a sum sufficient to have almost wiped out unemployment throughout the United States by providing jobs for an entire year for nearly 2,000,000 persons.

It is impossible, of course, to give the loss to employers as a result of strikes and lockouts, but it is roughly estimated by expert business men at from three to four times the loss to workers. And lastly, the cost to the general public would be further magnified in increased prices of necessities.

Time was lost by more than 1,600,000 workers through strikes and lockouts during the first half of the year, indicating that for the entire year the total number of workers involved in quarrels with employers will reach nearly 3,000,000 men and women. These figures include only those workers who walked out.

Do strikes pay—anyone?

ROAD BILL HUNG UP

The Federal road bill, aimed to project the highway program in Minnesota this winter, which was passed by the House on Tuesday last, will probably be hung up for some time in the Senate because of the legislative jam in that slow moving body. There seems to be some disagreement too, among the Senators in the committee where the bill rests, but in spite of this disagreement the chairman of the committee declares that the hopes for a favorable report on the bill within the next two weeks.

The bill as finally agreed upon carries an appropriation of $75,000,000, a third of which is made available upon passage, and the remainder upon Jan. 1. Should the bill be enacted before Jan. 1, Minnesota's share will be $2,841,466. After that date, according to the Department of Agriculture, it will receive $2,124,600 as its share.

The bill passed the senate late yesterday according to Washington dispatches.

SPECIAL BUSINESS TRAINING

There are now over 1,000,000 young men and women seeking special training for foreign trade and general business careers in public and private schools and colleges throughout the United States, reports to the Bureau of Education show.

Preparation for business life through carefully prepared courses of study in educational institutions specializing in the work is appealing more each year to individuals who hope to achieve lasting success, according to officials of the Federal bureau. The number who attend business schools and colleges now is increasing at the rate of 25,000 students a year, it is said. We are a business people.

CO-OPERATIVE LAND CLEARING

The agricultural and forestry forces of Minnesota have been combined, it is announced, to direct individual effort in land clearing to cooperative clearing in a campaign of education in Northeastern Minnesota between Nov. 7 and Dec. 10. It is expected that this campaign will also be extended to other sections of the northern part of the state in the near future.

Undoubtedly, through cooperation thousands of acres which it would take years to clear by individual effort would be prepared for cultivation in a shorter period and with much less expense. This would not only directly assist the settlers, but also greatly benefit the state in increasing the acreage of improved lands.

ANALYZING IRON ORES

A critical study of the methods of analyzing iron ores at Minnesota mines has begun at the North Central

Experiment station at Minneapolis, it is announced by the Federal Bureau of Mines at Washington. At the suggestion of several operators, it is proposed to compare various laboratory methods used at these mines in the determination of different elements in iron ores, after which a comparison of results will be made. Later, a paper giving the results of the investigation will be published by the Bureau of Mines.

A reminder that a Republican administration is functioning. A reduction of $465,000,000 in the public debt during October is announced by the Treasury department.

A reformer having declared he would move heaven and earth to enforce prohibition, the Burlington News suggests that he would get better results by moving Canada.

The success of the American relief in Russia would indicate that deflation hasn't lowered the American standard of giving.

AMUSEMENTS

"Big Town Ideas," With Eileen Percy
 A photoplay built on unconventional lines and for laughing purposes, is "Big Town Ideas," a William Fox offering in which beautiful Eileen Percy makes more laughs than in any one of her former vehicles. It will be seen at the Lyceum Theatre last time tonight.

Miss Percy starts out as a young dispenser of buckwheat cakes in a small town. She is possessed of a secret ambition to view at close range that beautiful New York City. At the end of the tale she realizes her ambition, and succeeds as well in making herself the party of the second part in a marriage ceremony with the handsome young hero, whom she has saved from serving an unmerited term in the penitentiary.

At the Lyceum Sunday

What the management of the Lyceum theatre considers as an unusually attractive photoplay offering is to be presented Sunday when the new Selznick picture, "The Dangerous Paradise," will be shown for the first time in Brainerd.

"The Dangerous Paradise" in this instance is the "Paradise of Freedom" which Ivis Vanastor is sure exists for all married women who are unhampered by being continually under the watchful eye of a chaperone. Of course when a girl is eighteen she should be allowed to flirt to her heart's content, at least that was Ivis' idea, so in order to avoid marrying an elderly admirer who was her aunt's choice, and to be free to flirt with Norman Kent, who was Ivis' choice, this lovely young person got a "harmless" friend to pose as her husband. But somehow it did not all go just as she had planned and before the story is concluded the spectator is treated to many a merry moment.

Louise Huff, Harry Benham, Ida Darling, Tempair Saxe and other prominent players under the direction of William P. S. Earle enact the characters of this charming comedy-romance by Edmund Goding.

Mabel Normand Here in Comedy

"The Slim Princess," Mabel Normand's latest Goldwyn starring vehicle, centres around the figure of a Morovenian princess, who, because of her daintiness and slim, supple figure is considered ineligible for marriage. In Morovenia, only young ladies, whose graceful proportions bring the scales up to three hundred pounds are considered beautiful (in the extreme). Therefore, the poor, slim princess (Mabel Normand), stands very little chance of realizing the happy state of matrimony.

She is hidden away, until one day, because of an offer that her father has for the hand of her younger sister, a lawn fete is given in her honor, in an endeavor to find her a husband, so that her younger sister may be married. The law of Morovenia says: "No girl can marry, who has an older, unmarried sister."

For the celebration, the slim princess dons a rubber suit, and has it blown up until she assumes the proportions of her countrywomen. But, unfortunately, a piece of wicker in the chair upon which she sat, punctured the rubber and the poor princess, glued to the spot, with shame and fright grew slimmer and thinner, and her late admirers watched in startled disappointment.

The slim princess retired to a quiet corner under the wall to dwell upon the inconvenience of her beautiful, little figure. Over the wall, came an adventurer, a young American, Pike. With straightforward, Yankee impulsiveness, he began making love to the princess, but the servants see him and chase him away. Not to be easily outdone, Pike returns to ask the slim princess' father to allow her to marry him.

Her father desires to know his rank, whether he has any social position, and just in what manner and way he is qualified for the hand of his daughter. Now Pike is a Yankee, and as Yankees are not kings, nor knights, nor anything else in that line, Pike has to do some quick thinking to find the qualifications necessary to gain his desire. He does it! But how? See Mabel Normand in "The Slim Princess" at the New Park tonight.

"If Women Only Knew"

"If Women Only Knew," has a dramatic value seldom found in photoplays of today. It has to do with one of the paramount issues of our times and, while not in any sense bordering on the sermon variety of pictures, brings forth in a vivid manner an object lesson. Character delineation, as we find the characters in our everyday life, is one of the strong points of the story. The production is a record breaker and will be shown at the New Park theatre Sunday only.

The value of a woman's sweet and unselfish love is deftly brought out in the picture. A vivid comparison between such a woman and the frivolous, vain type is clearly shown. Most striking of all is the depiction of the young man who, having his choice of the two, is unable to decide which way to turn. He picks the vain, glorious type and the theme is built around the results of his mistake.

Hope Hampton at New Park

Hope Hampton in "Love Penalty," a production of strong dramatic tension, will be the attraction at the New Park Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

The beautiful young star enacts a role which will bring a quick throb of sympathy from anyone who can realize the aftermath to careless treatment of a young girl's love. Miss Hampton portrays the role of Janis Clayton whose younger sister who loves her employer Steven Saunders. On the day Saunders marries another for social and financial gains, the sister is found dead with a poison bottle nearby. The mother of the two girls bears the tragedy but a week and then dies.

Crazed with grief Janis swears vengeance, and plans punishment for Saunders which is unique but far more effective than bodily injury could be. It will rob him of his social position, his business reputation, and the love of his wife and little son. Janis cares not that it may also cost her the thing most dear to a woman—her good name.

Fate steps in to save Janis from herself in a moment of magnificent power. Percy Marmont, Virginia Valli, Irma Harrison, Jack O'Brien and Mrs. Philip Landau are prominent in the supporting cast.

I am the bell of the town and while I do not wear jewelry, I often get rings. Finish Life Sentence in Iowa

Bismarck, Nov. 5.—Charles Welling, alias Harry Smith, will finish his life sentence in Iowa. Welling was arrested in September for killing an officer in Kenmore, and later identified as Harry Smith who escaped from Fort Madison, Iowa, after shooting one man and killing another.

His crime in this state made him liable to hanging, it being the law that anyone convicted of murder while serving sentence for another murder may be hanged.

Officials recommended that Welling, who is an alleged desperate character be held in the state penitentiary, instead of the Ward county jail until authorities arrive for him.

Fellows use me to make dates with girls, and girls use me to break said dates. Husbands call up their wives over me, and wives call their husbands down over me. I never go anywhere but sometimes the company comes and takes me out, it all depends on whether you pay your bill or not. I am not a bee, but I often buzz in your ear. I am the bell of the town and while I do not wear jewelry, I often get rings. Whether I do things or not, a lot of people nail me to the wall; and I like music, but the only music I ever hear is chin music. I get many popular airs, the most popular one is served hot.—Selected.

Finish Life Sentence in Iowa

Bismarck, Nov. 5.—Charles Welling, alias Harry Smith, will finish his life sentence in Iowa. Welling was arrested in September for killing an officer in Kenmore, and later identified as Harry Smith who escaped from Fort Madison, Iowa, after shooting one man and killing another.

His crime in this state made him liable to hanging, it being the law that anyone convicted of murder while serving sentence for another murder may be hanged.

Officials recommended that Welling, who is an alleged desperate character be held in the state penitentiary, instead of the Ward county jail until authorities arrive for him.

Americans who walk for the love of it, in spite of the constant dodging of automobiles and the swallowing of the dust of a dry season, are becoming fewer and more discouraged.

A leaky, torn or shabby top is a constant source of worry and discomfort. Why not have us make the old top handsome and really serviceable by having it recovered.

BRAINERD AIDS IN PERFECT PACKAGE MONTH

A nation-wide "Perfect Package" movement will be conducted by the railroads, steamship lines and the express carriers of the United States and Canada, during November, which will be known as "Perfect Package Month." The shipping public of this city will be asked to cooperate in the campaign.

The purpose of "Perfect Package Month" is to enable the carriers to aid shippers in their packing problems, and to help improve the transportation service of the country.

During November, the railroads, steamship lines and the express companies will examine the condition of all freight and express shipments and record the faults of shipments, which do not come up to the general classification of "Perfect Packages."

Special report blanks for freight and express will be made out for every shipment that is found wanting in some detail of good shipping and these reports will be sent to the shippers of the packages. A summary of all exceptions found during November will be submitted for examination and tabulation.

At the conclusion of the movement, the record of each city during "Perfect Package Month" will be tabulated and published broadcast. The leading city will be exploited, because of its perfection in shipping methods.

Considerable rivalry has been aroused among traffic organizations which have determined to make their cities the leader of "Perfect Package Month."

November was selected for the campaign, as the carriers are in a position where they can give more careful examination of passing traffic, and could, in fact, handle at least 25 per cent more business.

Every city or town, throughout the United States and Canada, that ships by rail and water, will be informed of these plans and be asked to aid in carrying them out. The entire working organization of all the railroads and express companies, are also to be enlisted in the campaign, comprising a force of nearly 2,000,000 men.

The railroads will push the "Perfect Package Movement" through a single agency, the American Railway Association, and organization of practically all railroads and steamship lines. Express agents everywhere will join with the railroad people in conducting the campaign.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORIES OF TODAY

"People generally advocate early shopping, but few practice it; however, I have found one man who is consistently an early shopper," said H. F. Michael. "He came in the store yesterday, selected a Victrola for his wife's Christmas, paid for it in full and gave direction for its delivery on Christmas."

CANCER LECTURE GIVEN TONIGHT

Dr. James A. Johnson of the medical school of the University of Minnesota who is to lecture on cancer in the reception room of the Chamber of Commerce on Saturday evening, November 5, is thoroughly acquainted with the subject, having specialized in the study of forms of cancer for the past seven years.

Dr. Johnson is one of the speakers in a national campaign which is educational in character and is to be the medium in putting the cancer problem before the people. The obvious necessity of the campaign is evidenced by the figures published by Dr. Albert J. Chesley, of the State Board of Health, who reports an increase in the death rate from cancer of two per cent in 1920 over 1919, which surpasses the death rate from tuberculosis.

When the citizens of Brainerd remember that at least six people are dying from cancer within the limits of this city, they will be inclined to attend a lecture wherein information about this menace which carries a threat to human life will be gratuitously provided.

If people are taught how to determine that cancer is making its attack, the disease may be treated in its early stages and the life saved from the fate that is inevitable unless the cure is effected in time.

The facts which have been given to the public through the press during the past week will have led to the desire of people to hear expert advice on this very important subject.

G. A. COLLEGE FUND CAMPAIGN PLANNED

$500,000 Needed to Strengthen Gustavus Adolphus College and Theological Seminary.

$100,000 FROM GEN. BOARD

Intensive Two Weeks' Drive All Set by Minn. Conference of Lutheran Augustana Synod Among 56,000 Members To Begin Oct. 30.

The Minnesota Conference of the Lutheran Augustana Synod will add $300,000 to the endowment fund of Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter, Minn., pay the conference quota of $100,000 to the building and endowment fund of Augustana Theological Seminary, Rock Island, Ill., and in addition complete the payment on the new gymnasium now being erected at St. Peter, Minn., a total of $600,000 during the year 1922, according to a plan of campaign outlined by the leaders of that conference. Of this amount the General Education Board of New York has already promised $100,000 as endowment for Gustavus Adolphus College providing the conference itself add the other $200,000 over and above all indebtedness of that institution. This leaves $500,000 that the campaign leaders are asking the 56,000 members of this conference, living in Minnesota, Wisconsin, North and South Dakota, to pledge during the two weeks of October 30th-November 13th.

Gustavus Adolphus Gymnasium.

The gymnasium fund was started by the students of Gustavus Adolphus college over two years ago when they, together with the faculty, subscribed $12,000. The city of St. Peter, with a population of 4,000, pledged $20,000 recently, and alumni and friends of the college have added from time to time until the fund now amounts to $50,000. The responsibility for the completion of the gymnasium fund together with the raising of the college endowment and the seminary funds was assumed by a vote of lay and clerical delegates representing the 349 churches of the conference at the annual convention held at Stillwater, Minn., last March. The board of directors of Gustavus Adolphus College was authorized to plan for the raising of the funds and begin at once with the construction of the new gymnasium.

New Campaign Plan Adopted.

The plan agreed upon by this board was something new in the Minnesota Conference. Heretofore the funds have been raised by the college president and assistants going from town to town and making a personal canvass. This method, the board argued, was not only inefficient and most expensive, but that it would not raise the funds in time to relieve the serious and immediate need of the college or take advantage of the offer of $100,000 from the General Board of Education of New York.

The new plan adopted was to merge the college and seminary funds and make an intensive campaign during the two weeks following October 30th, carrying the appeal for funds into every home in the conference, laying the case squarely before them and asking the 56,000 members to pledge $500,000 to cover the amount needed, payable in part January 1st, 1922, and the balance January 1st, 1923. The details were worked out by a sub-committee consisting of Dr. O. J. Johnson, president of Gustavus Adolphus College, and Rev. O. J. Arthur, Mankato, Minn., assisted by Dr. Gustav Andreen, president of the Augustana Theological Seminary, Rock Island, Ill., and Rev. A. T. Ekblad, Superior, Wis., the two latter representing the theological seminary.

Approval of Executive Committee.

The new campaign plan has been approved by the executive committee of the conference, the body empowered by a special resolution to pass upon all appeals for funds. The chairman of the 20 districts have endorsed the plan and have held meetings of lay and clerical delegates from all the churches of each district, and with scarcely an exception the districts have voted to carry out the plan of the committee. The leaders of the new movement now believe that the conference will move as a unit to strengthen the college and seminary by creating additional funds and erecting adequate buildings and thus provide for the training of additional young men as ministers of the Gospel.

AMERICANS BUY AUSTRIAN VILLA

"Liegenschaft," Ancient Seat of Nobility, Now Home of Laughing Children.

Villas in Vienna are used to varied and passing tenants since war times. Impoverished noblemen move out for fat profiteers to move in, or grafting politicians. Now and then, however, one of these fine old houses gets a new tenant that it is not ashamed of. The handsome estate shown in the photograph, "Liegenschaft," is housing the largest family in its history, about 65, and its aristocratic paneled walls echo with an amazing amount of merry chatter and laughter. It had probably been many a day since any kind of merriment had sounded through its tapestried halls. The present possessors of this big villa and the two dwellings on the grounds are 60 baby orphans, one to five years old, and the women who take care of them.

Nothing but American money could have purchased such a good home for these helpless youngsters. The National Lutheran Council, through its European Commissioner, Dr. John A. Morehead, made the deal, and turned it over to the local Lutheran Church, to be managed by Miss Margaret Wahlbliss, who gathered up 60 little waifs out of box cars where destitute refugees were letting them sleep and giving them scraps of food now and then.

Liegenschaft, located in a beautiful suburban section, Hueteldorf, at the foot of the slope of the Salzberg, adapted itself with ease to the new regime. Billiard rooms and boudoirs were turned into splendid nurseries over night, and the library makes the jolliest sort of play room on rainy days. The crystal fringed candelabra have a most fascinating jingle when you jump up and down on the floor. As for the kitchen, it is the busiest spot in the house and works overtime. Gardens, orchards, cows and chickens were counted in the first equipment, so that little outside purchasing is necessary. The apple trees are immensely popular with these children who had forgotten what apples looked like, even if they ever had known. Inside the white picket fence are chestnut trees rigged up with rope swings. Back of the vegetable garden is a rippling brook with tiny pebbles on the bottom that tickle your bare feet, and there is a perfectly stunning robber's cave up the hill a little way.

From miles and miles away these persecuted Lutherans had fled to Budapest and Dr. John A. Morehead, European Commissioner of the National Lutheran Council, found the wretched colony on the outskirts of the city living in box cars, two years ago. American money very quickly brought about a building for classes and an
